

Carina Berger
Group Controller
B.A. Business Administration

“It motivates me to integrate goals and plans of all stakeholders into a coordinated whole.”

After completing my business studies with a focus on Controlling & Finance, I was already able to gain solid experience in the financial sector at an internationally active automotive supplier and at a university as a financial controller.

My main tasks include introducing controlling instruments and further developing existing controlling processes. According to the motto «progress instead of standstill». It gives me great pleasure to introduce appropriate controlling applications that enable target-oriented control and contribute to the sustainable success of the VAREM Group by processing decision-relevant information.
